Nearly Fifty Bodies Already Taken from the Fatal Shuft, and the List May Reach 100.

SOUTH MCALLISTER, I. T., Jon. 9 .-The horrors of the Diamond mine dis-fister at Braidwood, Ill., about eight years ago, were reenacted here Thurs-day night and Friday except that in this instance fire instead of flood was the instance are instead of flood was the instrument of destruction. As has already been telegraphed, the miners were preparing to leave shaft No. 11 at Krebs, 5 miles from here, operated by the Osage Coal & Mining Company, shortly after 5 o'clock Friday evening, a terrific explosion occurred spreading death

One Mundred and Thirty Dead.
A careful estimate by Assistant Man ager Krebs places the dead at 130 and the injured at 200. Of these at least 100 will die, as they are burned so that the fiesh is dropping from their bones. At 11 o'clock Friday night forty-nine bodies had been recovered from the identifed.

The explosion occurred about 5 p. m. Thursday, at which time there were about 400 men at work in the mine. They were the day shift, and were just preparing to ascend when the explenion took place. Six men who had already been hoisted in the cage had just stepped on the platform at the side of the shaft. The cage was blown through the roof of the tower and 50 feet into the air. Flames shot up the shaft and above the ground fully 100 feet, which were followed by a terrific report which was heard for miles around and shook all the neighboring country via-

Worked Their Way Out. Many of the miners were able to make their way out of the tomb, and they were welcomed at the surface by were quickly taken to places of shelter and were tenderly cared for One man with a broken leg climbed al the distance of see feet through the sir shaft and fell unconscious as he reached the surface. Others who were terribly burned labored painfully up the ladder, strips of Sesh falling from their hands and arms as they grasped the ladder's

The news of the disaster spread quickly through the villages surrounding Krebs. Every physician at once volunteered his services and hastened to Krebs ready to do his duty of mercy. Hundreds of miners from the Braid wood and McAllister Seids hurried to the agence to do what they could in assisting in the receive of the entembed men and the receivery of the dead. The moved, the latter being could have exchanged all Grough Thursday the building and another night and Friday. The work was haz-ardons, but the hope that some of the unfortunate men might be rescued alive spurred the rescuers on to many deeds of bravery and possibly selfsacrifice.

No attempt can yet be made to ex-plore the mine. At every landing dead and dying are taken out. Many bedies are so burned that they are not recognizable by anyone. Fully fifty have been taken out still alive and placed in the nearest homes, but of these five cannot live. The burns are all of wide area, not to speak of the effects of the inhalation of gasses by the unfortunates. There are now thirty bodies in the blacksmith shop awaiting disposal or identification.

There are two encouraging facts which urge the rescuers on to the work. No fire followed the explosion —at least there have been no signs of any—and there are known to be live men entounted in the tunnel behind fallen bowlders. The rescuers can hear faint knockings and far off shoutings. They are digging in the direction whence the sounds come and hope yet to rescue some of the men alive.

Cause of the Explesion.

The mines have long been regarded as dangerous, as there are few escapes and the ground is very gasy. The exact cause of the fearful catastrophe is not known as yet, but it is believed by those who escaped to have been caused by a premature explosion, which took place before the usual safety precautions could be taken.
